

Let's Teach like

I LIKE it. I no (don't) LIKE it. These are two sentences you may hear from children who are learning to comment about their environment.

The ability to share your opinion about something is very important, and the word "LIKE" is a great way to introduce that concept. Of course, LIKE does carry other meanings. As a noun, it is something you enjoy. As a preposition, it is used for comparisons.

INTRODUCE

Using aided language input, explain that LIKE means "to enjoy." It may be easier to explain it in a sentence:

"If you LIKE something it makes you feel happy."

"If you LIKE something it means you want more."

"If you LIKE something it means it's your favorite."

MODEL

Model the word throughout the day, touching LIKE in the vocabulary anytime you say it.

"I LIKE that."

"I LIKE how you are waiting."

"Do you LIKE it?"

"That looks LIKE mine."

"I don't LIKE that noise."

"It looks LIKE it might rain."

"I don't LIKE the sound of that."

ENCOURAGE

Create activities to provide lots of models and practice with LIKE.

Book: "Green Eggs & Ham."

Song: "I LIKE to Move It."

Snack/Meal: Have a taste testing to determine what they LIKE.

Activity: Go to an art gallery & comment about what you LIKE and don't LIKE

EXPECT

Create opportunities for the learner to say LIKE. Make sure to wait and look at them so they know it is expected.

Ask "What did you think about that?" Look and wait expectantly or provide choices "Did you LIKE it, or not LIKE it?"
